New York State of Health:

What You Need to Know About Health Care Reform

Join us for a discussion on what the new federal health care law means for New Yorkers.

Starting January 1, 2014, New York will run a health care marketplace, called New York State of Health. Individuals, families, and small business owners will be able to enroll in new, affordable health insurance plans through the marketplace. Find out if you're eligible, how and when to apply, what benefits and plan options are available, details on financial aid to help pay qualified New Yorkers' insurance premiums, and details on tax credits for small businesses.

Speakers:

Marcia Okon
MCC Healthcare Exchange Counselor
Manhattan Chamber of Commerce

Carrie Tracy, JD
Deputy Director, Health Initiatives
Community Service Society of New York

Alice Yaker
Director of Community Outreach
New York State of Health, NYS Dept. of Health
